Dear Paula

Re: Dr Kris Ojala Focus Training for New Zealand

Kris came to New Zealand for the second year to train psychologists in the Focus programme. I have always found Kris to be extremely professional and an excellent trainer.

From 2008 and 2009 he has trained over 40 teachers and psychologists in the Friends and Focus programmes. He always used relevant examples and all participants reported any question they had been answered fully and thoughtfully.

Personally my dealings with Kris over the last two years have all been excellent and I would not hesitate to bring him out to New Zealand again for training.

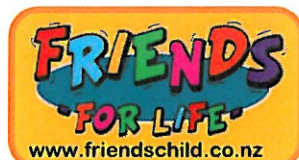

His participation in the development of the second edition of the Focus programme was invaluable and his insight and examples of client's journeys were beneficial to all the trainees.

I would be happy to talk to anyone by email or phone about any specific questions regarding Kris and our experience in using him as a trainer for both the Friends programmes and Focus.

Yours sincerely
