Dear Dr Barrett

I'd like to thank you for a very inspiring, informative and challenging presentation at our school last week. The feedback from parents has been extremely positive, many of them enthused by your down-to-earth manner and the way you presented your research material in practical terms that left people feeling empowered.

The President of our P&F Association wrote:

Dr Barrett's presentation was enlightening, and entertaining, and the large audience seemed to be very appreciative.

In communication with the Principal and the P&F President we have decided to make this evening an annual event for which your talk has provided a very fitting benchmark. The depth and variety of the material you presented meant that there was something in it for everyone present. Many people said they could have listened to you for hours longer.

I particularly appreciate the way you model what you teach. I couldn't help but think that here is a person who either has had the fortunate experience of having had two parents who were both able to see the glass as half full most of the time, or else has overcome whatever hurdles necessary to be able to become that person herself. I have no doubt that you have inspired thousands of people.

May God continue to bless you.
