Dear Professor Barrett

Thank you for taking part in the Queensland Studies Authority's (QSA) Building success: Rethinking access and engagement Conference on 30 April and 1 May 2009. The conference was a great success, with more than 700 educators attending over the two days.

Delegate feedback indicates that the conference program was favourably received, especially the keynote presentations, which delegates regarded very highly. We received a number of comments regarding how inspirational and valuable delegates found your presentation.

I would like to thank you for your contribution to the conference. Your generosity in contributing your time to deliver a keynote was greatly appreciated. The knowledge, experience and skills you shared with conference delegates as part of your presentation added value to the conference.

I wish you well for the future.

Yours sincerely
